
Internationally Recognised Courses

LL.M. (Master of Laws) programmes are postgraduate programmes aimed at deepening knowledge and specialising in the field of law. These programmes enable law graduates to acquire advanced knowledge and skills in a particular field of law, which may subsequently lead to increasing their employment opportunities in legal practice, international organisations or academia.

The Faculty of Law of Charles University offers LL.M. programmes in both Czech and English. The programmes are offered in a combined teaching form.

```
<style> .button-container { display: flex; justify-content: center; align-items: center; } .my-button:link, a:visited { background-color: #003657; color: white; padding: 15px 30px; border-radius: 4px; text-align: center; text-decoration: none; display: inline-block; } .my-button:hover, a:active { background-color: #004671; } </style>   LL.M. programmes in English    LL.M. programmes in Czech
```